be present were among those disappointed in not securing admission to the Cathedral.
At the appointed hour and unaccompanied by music six hundred clergy, walking two by two, emerged from Calvert Hall clad in white surplice and black cassock and beretta and marched down the street a few squares to the residence of Cardinal Gibbons. There were double lines of guards leading up to the door of the cardinal's home.
Presently while the white surpliced priests

It was the gathering of nearly all the Catholic bishops and archbishops of the United States with representatives from Mexico, Canada, England and Rome itself. Mexico, Canada, England and Rome itself. The prelates now came forth from the big portico in pairs, and as each two stepped into the streat their costly robes were caught up by diminutive altar boys. Through the long line of priests the prelates threaded their way around the square to the main entrance of the cathedral, the rear of the procession being brought up by the tall, ascetic figure of Archbishop Feehan of Chicago, who immediately preceded a goldenvestured crossbearer, followed by two spare slight-locking men, almost hidden in dazzling searlet.

The two men in searlet were Cardinals Gibbons of Baltimore and Tasshersau of Quebec. Eight acolytes upheld their long vestments, and surrounding them were their monsignors with their delegates, O'Connell and Satolli, of Rome.

within the cathedral ten minutes later the scene was simply magnificent. The pews throughout the church were crowded to the utmost with laity, while the sisles were packed with snowy-surplied priests. Against both laity and priests shone the serried purple ranks of prelates inside the sanctuary. On either side were the dais for the cardinals. At the high altar stood the mitred celebran of the mass, Archbishop Williams of Boston

He knew that truth is one, that God cannot contra-dict in the revelation of the scripture what he exhibits in the revelation of science. Hence the Catholic church never feared the progress of science and education. The charge that the laity were priest-ridden every Catholic knew was false, and he hoped that in the congress this week the laity would speak out fearlessly and freely. The Re-Count in Massachusetts. WOBURN, Mass., Nov. 10 .- On petition of State senator in the fifth Middlesex district the Woburn board of aldermen Saturday eve ning re-counted the votes cast for senator in the city at the late election. According to the first returns Moses P. Palmer, Republican, had a total plurality over Skinner of 45 votes, but later developments gave him but 27 plurality. By the re-count in Woburn Skinner received 22 votes, the majority being vetes on which the cross was not placed in the square designated by the Secretary of State, the aldermen deciding that, as the intent of the voters was clear, the ballots should be counted for Skinner. Most of the votes wrongly marked had the cross between the candidate's name and residence, and the the candidate's name and residence, and the word designating his politics. This makes Skinner's plurality in the city 556. He has but 5 votes to overcome in the re-count of the vote of the towns in the district.

Although the sophomores outnumbered the freshmen two to one, by skillful management the freshmen succeeded in keeping the flag in the van twenty-four hours. Several thousand citizens of both Troy and Albany lined the river banks and orrespondingly jevial. Some months ago the union was formed and before last night's meeting numbered about eighty-five members. It was formed by the prominent musicians of the city, most of whom play at some of the theaters. One of the rules of the organization was that each member should play for not less than $15 a the orchestra at Proctor's, who began the season at $14 for their weekly pay. The musicians at the Grand Opera House and Hyperion also played under price. These members were brought up before the union and fined for violation of rules. They objected and not only refused to pay their fines, but also their dues. The lesser members of the union saw that they were being hoodwinked by the more experienced enes, and trouble began to appear. At last night's meeting the musicians who have been playing under price seemed to have things all their ewn way. They caused a vote to be passed abolishing the price list and also releasing them from the heavy fines imposed upon them for violating the under-price rule. This practically broke up the union, as a musician can now play in any company and at any price. The season at $14 for their weekly pay. The mu-

Rheumatism.

St. Paul, Nov. 10 .- A breach of promise "One year ago I was taken ill with inflammatory rheumatism, being confined to my house six months. I came out of the sickness very much debilitated, with no appetite, and my system disordered in every way. I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla and began to improve at once, gaining in strength and soon recovering my usual health. I cannot say too much in praise of this well-known medicine."—Mrs. L. A. BEING due to the presence of uric acid in the blood, is most effectually cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparills. Be sure you get Ayer's and no other, and take it till the poisonous acid is thoroughly expelled from the system. We challenge attention to this estimony :-

"About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from rheumatic gout, being able to walk only with great discomfort, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw by an advertisement in a Chicago paper that a man had been refleved of this distressing complaint, after long suffering, by taking Ayer's Sarasparilla. I then decided to make a Crical of this medicine, and took it regularly for eight months, and am pleased to state that it has effected a complete cure. I have since had no return of the disease."—Mrs. R. Irving Dodge, 110 West 125th st., New York.

Frederick Biles Otis of the Divinity Frederick Bliss Otis, the Yale Divinity tudent, who has been at the Hospital for some time with severe attacks of hemorrhages, died at half past 10 o'clock last evening. He was a member of the middle class of the Yale Divinity school. His home is in Olivet. Michigan. His mother and sister were with him at the time of his death. A telegram was received yesterday afternoon from his father, who was then in Buffalo, saying that he would reach this city by midnight; but it was impossible to keep the sufferer alive until that time, notwithstanding the unceasing efforts of the physicians attending him. The date of the funeral has not yet been fixed. It will be held in Marquand chapel and the body will be sent to Michigan for burial.

The well-known Bennett and Moulton Opera company will appear at the Grand Opera House all of this week. Von Suppe's Boccacio," will be sung this evening. The people of New Haven are well acquainted with this opera company. It has been well patronized in the past and indications are that the audiences will this time be the largest that the company has ever played to. Miss Irene Murphy is still with the company.
